

Inquisi*T*ours

InquisiTourS was founded in 2016 and is headquartered in Walla Walla, Washington. InquisiTourS was created by Guy and Robin Glaeser with the curious traveler in mind.

Our Vision:

Creating unique experiences and building life-long memories through travel.

Our Mission:

Travel is about memories and connections. We design and operate tours to enhance our customers lives by introducing and experiencing new destinations, connecting people, exploring different cultures and imparting education and knowledge. Our extensive experience and personal relationships with our trusted partners allow an affordability with our tour packages. We are a small, family business built on honesty, integrity and respect. The combination of these qualities, as well as our personalized care and professional experience, leads to a once in life time journey. This is what travel is all about!

A far-reaching desire to connect with the planet is at the core of this global tour company. Knowing this connection can be achieved a thousand different ways, our first step is with the neighbor, the winemaker, and the farmer that welcomes you into their community. The places we see will dazzle and humble you, and the people we meet we leave you smiling and eager to re-tell the story.

Robin Glaeser worked for many years in the hotels, tourism, and global IT consulting, managing teams throughout North America, Europe, and Asia. With InquisiTourS her operational skills are matched with her passion for travel and her desire to create stronger connections with the people and places that come into her life.

Guy Glaeser is professional traveler. He has extensive history working in the Tour and Cruise industry creating, operating and promoting tours around the world. After exploring many of the worlds great destinations, he found himself living in one. He excited to showcase his hometown of Walla Walla and Eastern Washington.
